Terry L. Randall was elected Chairman of Maryland Business for Responsive Government (MBRG) at the fall meeting of its board of directors, succeeding Richard E. Hug.

Terry L. Randall is Vice Chairman of the Board, President, and Chief Executive Officer of Mellott Enterprises, Inc. and Vice Chairman of the Board and Senior Executive Vice President of H. B. Mellott Estate, Inc. Mellott Enterprise, Inc. and H. B. Mellott, Inc. are private, commonly owned middle-market companies with approximately 300 employees, serving the aggregates industry primarily in the eastern United States from New York State to Georgia.

“Terry Randall has the highest integrity of anyone I’ve known in business; and he can pinpoint with great precision the heart of an issue that everyone else has overlooked,” said Howard Blackwell “Blackie” Bowen, President of Ewing Oil Company, Inc. of Hagerstown.

Former Maryland Secretary of Business and Economic Development James T. Brady said “Terry Randall is distinguished for his success in a diverse range of businesses,” among them as Managing Partner of the Global Group for Wolpoff & Company, LLP, Accountants and Consultants, a prominent regional accounting firm later acquired by American Express; as a minor league baseball owner; and entrepreneur. “This gives Terry an uncommon statewide perspective in dealing with large and small companies.”

“Since its formation in 1983, MBRG has been strategic in its focus and increasingly so in recent years as it has taken the leading private sector role in public policy formulation through its foundation, Maryland FREE, in areas such as health care,” said MBRG President Robert O. C. Worcester. “Everyone who knows Terry Randall remarks about his grasp of human nature and unusual strategic perspective,” he said.

Besides Mr. Hug, previous MBRG Chairmen were Robert L. Tate, CEO of Tate Industries; J. Stevenson Peck, CEO of Union Trust Bank; Bailey Thomas, CEO of McCormick & Company, Inc.; B. Larry Jenkins, CEO of Monumental Life Insurance Co.; and Al Sparks, Executive Vice President and COO of GEICO.
